Book Your Prague Hotels And Take A Ride Along The City's Beautiful Canals

Prague is a truly unique city. It is a charming antidote to conventional cities with its slow paced way of life and laid back locals. Get away from the bustle of London life, and discover yourself again in this calm environment when you book your Prague hotels .

Prague is a quiet and tranquil city filled with culture and history, perfect for a short weekend or break with a loved one. To make things easier for you, we have put together a guide for your stay in Prague. From where to stay, to what to see and do, we have it all covered. Take a look for yourself:

The city is famous for its canals, so why not book a hotel overlooking one? The four Star Certovka Hotel is a charming property that was formerly a baroque house located near the exclusive area of Hradcany, just a few steps from the Prague Castle and the historical part of Prague called Mala Strana. Wenceslas Square, the National Museum and the Prague Congress Centre are all short walks from here. The city is so compact that wherever you book your Prague hotels, you will be nearby to major historical sites and treasures of the city, and offers superb views of Prague Castle and the Bridge Tower.

Start your holiday by catapulting yourself into a bygone era with a trip to the Old Town of Prague. Lined with exceptionally beautiful buildings and shops, you will have a great time in Prague. Take a journey on the well run Metro train service to The Castle district, another historical area. From the Little Quarter and through the Charles Bridge in to Old Town, Jewish Quarter, there is so much to see here. You can really get a taste for what life is like here, as many Prague hotels can be found in this area.

A good way of planning your journey is along the several canals in the city, which are linked to the main River Vltava. Wherever you choose to go, you will be able to get back quickly as the city is so compact. One of the most beautiful places to go by boat in Prague is sailing underneath the last remaining arch of the famous Judith Bridge, the predecessor to the Charles Bridge. It is great to see a piece of old Czech history still standing.

The riverside panorama featuring Prague Castle, the seat of the Kings of Bohemia is the best view in the city, but you will need to take to the water to see it. See the Castle from a different angle from this unique vantage point. From all possible angles, the work of Emperor Charles IV are fully on display, including the bridge which his faithful master-builder Peter Parler built over the river. A true joy to behold.
