Easy Approach For Parking At Birmingham Airport

Birmingham Airport is 10.2 kilometres south-east of the Birmingham town centre. The airfield is very busy with 8,572,398 passengers in 2010 and it is the base for BMI, Flybe, Bmibaby, Ryanair, Thomson Airways, and Monarch Airlines. The airport has a rich history, having been established in 1928. There are a few reasons why you should take your auto to the Birmingham airfield when going on a trip. The best advantage of this is the undeniable fact that it offers unique convenience since you won't need public transport. Although you'll pay when parking at Birmingham airport, you save when you bring your auto along because you don't need to pay for transport and other logistics. Another advantage of bringing your car to the airfield is the undeniable fact that it is safer than leaving your auto at home, particularly if you park your car on the drive and there is no one at home. When considering parking at birmingham airport, it is vital that you know the different options available as this is going to help you make an informed call. Vehicle parks at the Birmingham Airport include the Birmingham Airport Hotels, UK Airport Parking, Birmingham Aadvark, Birmingham Airport Long Stay1, Birmingham Angloparks Meet & Greet, Birmingham APH, Birmingham Meteor Meet & Greet, Birmingham Short and Medium 1, and Birmingham Short and Medium 2 and Three. The choice should be based primarily on your own circumstances and your budget.

If you want to blend airfield parking with hotel stay, the best parking option is parking at Birmingham Airport Hostels. This is a safe and convenient option, but it's a costly option. If you are short on cash, consider central authority or airport-run parking such as UK airfield parking. If you need a service that will offer more than parking at Birmingham airport, consider the likes of Birmingham APH which can even secure a spot on an exclusive airfield lounge (the Servisair Lounge or the Charnley Suite) for you. If you have special desires and you cannot do much walking, consider parking at Birmingham airport close to the terminal you will be using such as parking at Birmingham Short and Medium 1 if you will be using terminal 1.

Nonetheless by some way the best parking at Birmingham airport is the one provided by greeting services. Welcome services might be the most costly parking options, but they're advantageous in that they offer further services such as optional valet service, a uniformed driver to drive you to and from the airfield, luggage porting services, and a number of other services. Parking lots by greeting services at the Birmingham airfield are very secure with 24-hour security and CCTV cameras.
