

Published based on Learn About Sagada Today

Learn About Sagada Today

If you want a tropical vacation and one that is not just about beaches but mountains and hiking adventures then you should try Sagada, Philippines. It is one of the currently growing major tourist destinations in that country frequented by all sorts of tourists.

First of all maybe one of the reasons why it is such a crowd drawer is because of its cold climate. As it is situated in the mountains in the Mt. Province region it is a lot colder than the lowlands particularly compared with the nation's capital, the city of Manila. So if you find yourself visiting the country during the summer season and you find it too hot for you, head out to Sagada and feel the cold and inviting air.

Do you want to spend time in a serene village located high up in the mountains? Then you should go on a Sagada trip. There are so many things that you can do there such as camping, caving, hiking, and just simply enjoying the tasty food fares served by many of the restaurants there. Just make sure that you will be staying for at least three days so you can experience everything that Sagada has to offer.

Here are a few more details on what you can expect should you go on a Sagada trip in the very near future.

Are you fond of waterfalls? Then you are in luck because there are two wonderful waterfalls in Sagada. The larger of the two is called the Bomod-ok Falls or also popularly known as Big Falls. It is situated just outside of Sagada and you will need to hire a vehicle to reach the jump off point and then walk your way down the rice terraces to reach it. Try to walk from your inn to the falls and it will take about 4 hours all in all. The Bokong Falls is the other one and much smaller in comparison to the Big Falls.

There are also many interesting trails that you can take around this area so if you are an avid hiker then you will definitely enjoy your visit. Admittedly most of the trails are quite easy for the skilled hiker but you will surely appreciate the beautiful surroundings especially the foliage and the view of the distant mountains. You can also go up Mt. Ampacao, which is really an easy climb to do and have a great view of the rest of the area.

Want to go caving? Then there is the Lumiang and the Sumaguing caves. The latter is the more popular of the two although both are interconnected. It is common practice to start with the Lumiang cave and then emerge from the Sumaguing cave. With the help of a guide it can take you at least 2 hours to finish that adventure.

There are many restaurants and eateries in Sagada that a visit there would never be complete without experience the local cuisine. But if you prefer traditional American food, there are also places there that sell burgers, spaghetti, and sandwiches. Some people would actually visit Sagada simply for the food.

These are just some of the things that you can see and experience in Sagada. The next step would be finding out how to get to Sagada but that should be easy. Just make a simple online search and you will come across a number of good resources.

You can also find this article published on Learn About Sagada Today, and on the tag pages area, bokong, Falls, rice terraces, sagada, sagada philippines.