Older Folks From India Are Demanding Travel Insurance

Within the last five years there has been an influx of senior citizens traveling from India to the United States. Most of them came here in order to visit their children and grandchildren so most of their concerns are health-related since they are older.

Distance is the major challenge for these travelers. The flight from India to the United States can take between 17 to 23 hours depending on where in India they are coming from. Consider also the long waits these people had to endure in International Airports. Just imagine sitting in a coach seat for this long and you have diabetes or high blood pressure, and with your ankles swelling because you have been sitting for hours. This could aggravate the medical conditions they have. This is where insurance could be very beneficial. It is good to look for travel health insurance such as senior citizen travel insurance or emergency travel insurance.

ICIC Lombard Overseas Travel Insurance has the very best in senior coverage because they offer policies that go from age 71 to 85, which is very uncommon. The insurance offers coverage for medical issues due to illness or accidents, it even has coverage for in patient and out patient treatment, furthermore the medical evacuation insurance from the US back to India.

The coverage could cover up to $50,000 for people ages 71 to 75 and $25,000 for ages 76 to 85. You may notice that they offer less as a person gets older since they believe that as one gets older, the risk also increases.

Regarding life threatening illness, this insurance covers pre-existing conditions which is great at this age. Most seniors are very worried about this as with age a lot of people are suffering from additional illnesses which makes it more difficult to travel.
